JMJ Missions: Catholic evangelists from New Jersey

Daniel Palmieri and his partners, Anthony McCullough and Rocco Taraborrelli, comprise JMJ Missions, a ministry dedicated to the evangelization of as many souls as possible - one at a time. After having been touched by God intensely in their personal lives, they believe it's their turn to bring the hope and joy of Christ to others. The message of Christianity is that every single person is truly known, loved, and cared for by a God that does exist, even in our darkest moments when it's hardest to believe. It's their hope that their efforts help others to experience that reality more profoundly. Hear more from Dan at our Parish Mission on Wednesday, Dec. 15 starting at 7 p.m.

Gaudete Sunday

What is special about the Third Sunday of Advent? For much of the Church's history, this Sunday had a special name: "Gaudete" Sunday. The traditions surrounding this Sunday go back as far as the fourth or fifth century, as does the season of Advent itself. Advent, our preparation for Christmas, was originally a forty-day penitential season like Lent. In fact, since it used to begin on November 12 (just after the Memorial of St. Martin of Tours), it was called "St. Martin's Lent." "Gaudete Sunday" was the Advent counterpart to "Laetare Sunday," which marks the midpoint in Lent.

On Gaudete Sunday, the season of Advent shifts its focus. For the first two weeks of Advent, the focus can be summed up in the phrase, "The Lord is coming." But beginning with Gaudete Sunday, the summary might be, "The Lord is near." This shift is marked by a lighter mood and a heightened sense of joyous anticipation.

Liturgically, the colors lighten as well. The priest usually wears rose-colored vestments, a hue seen only on Gaudete Sunday and Laetare Sunday. On this day, we light the third candle of the Advent wreath, which is also rose-colored, or if you prefer, pink.

Pope Benedict XVI arrives to visit the Church of Our Lady of Grace in Rome Dec. 11, 2011 (CNS/Paul Haring)

The word "Gaudete" is Latin for "Rejoice." In times when the focus of our anticipation is often on the negative and fearful, this celebration is a reminder that God who loves us is still in charge and that we await his coming not with fear, but with tremendous joy.

Today's Second Reading, from the First Letter of St. Paul to the Thessalonians, reflects this joy:

"Brothers and sisters: Rejoice always. Pray without ceasing. In all circumstances give thanks, for this is the will of God for you in Christ Jesus."

The “O Antiphons” of Advent

The Roman Church has been singing the “O Antiphons” since at least the eighth century. They are the antiphons that accompany the Magnificat canticle of Evening Prayer from December 17-23. They are a magnificent theology that uses ancient biblical imagery drawn from the messianic hopes of the Old Testament to proclaim the coming Christ as the fulfillment not only of Old Testament hopes but present ones as well. Their repeated use of the imperative “Come!” embodies the longing of all for the Divine Messiah.

In the last days of Advent, you may wish to add these “O Antiphons” to your evening prayer, your prayer at table, or your bedtime prayer.

December 17

O Wisdom of our God Most High,
guiding creation with power and love:
come to teach us the path of knowledge!

December 18

O Leader of the House of Israel,
giver of the Law to Moses on Sinai:
come to rescue us with your mighty power!

December 19

O Root of Jesse’s stem,
sign of God’s love for all his people:
come to save us without delay!

December 20

O Key of David,
opening the gates of God’s eternal Kingdom:
come and free the prisoners of darkness!

December 21

O Radiant Dawn,
splendor of eternal light, sun of justice:
come and shine on those who dwell in darkness and in the shadow of death.

December 22

O King of all nations and keystone of the Church:
come and save man, whom you formed from the dust!

December 23

O Emmanuel, our King and Giver of Law:
come to save us, Lord our God!

Reflections on the Readings from the 3rd Sunday of Advent—December 12, 2021

INVITATION TO JOY

The Third Sunday of Advent is traditionally called Gaudete, or Rejoice, Sunday—and all of the readings for this week invite us to rejoice. The first reading from the prophet Zephaniah opens with a threefold call to joy, “Shout for joy... sing joyfully.... Be glad and exult with all your heart” (Zephaniah 3:14). Israel rejoiced in the presence of her saving God, but this joy is made complete in the coming of Jesus, the Messiah, and so we too are called to rejoice in the presence of our God.

In the second reading from Philippians, St. Paul shares with us the secret to Christian joy: It is not merely an emotion that comes and goes, but a choice. We choose to rejoice by remembering all that God has done for us. In the Gospel reading from Luke, we are reminded that repentance is the preparation for receiving God’s gift of salvation. The crowds flocking to John are a testimony to the deep hunger and desire in man’s heart for God, and John answers this hunger with very simple instructions: Put your life in order. The works of charity and justice that John encourages are not salvation itself, but they prepare the heart for salvation, which, in turn, opens us to the joy that God alone can provide.

Together, the readings for this Sunday of Advent encourage us to go beyond the superficial happiness that the world looks for during the Christmas season and enter into a relationship with God built on joy and profound gratitude.

PRAYER

Prayerfully place yourself in today’s Gospel reading. Picture yourself on the bank of the Jordan River listening to John’s announcement that the Messiah is finally coming. Imagine the joy you and many of the others in the crowd would have hearing that the Messiah will finally be arriving after hundreds of years of waiting. Imagine John the Baptist saying to you, “Repent, for the Kingdom of heaven is at hand.” How does this call to repentance make you feel? Are you excited? Scared?

RESOLUTION

Imagine hearing John the Baptist’s instructions to the crowds to practice charity and justice in their daily lives. What might John tell you specifically to do to put your life in order in preparation for the coming of the Lord? What is one thing you can do this week in order to make your daily life a greater witness to Jesus? | formed.org
