TEARDROP MINISTRY PRAYER

Blessed Monica, mother of St. Augustine, we give thanks to our Father in Heaven who looked with mercy upon your tears over your wayward son. His conversion and heroic sanctification were the fruit of your prayers.

Dear St. Monica we now ask you to pray with us for all those sons and daughters that have wandered away from God, and to add your prayers to those of all mothers who are worried over their children. Pray also for us that, following your example, we may, in the company of our children, one day enjoy the eternal vision of our Father in Heaven. Amen. St. Monica pray for us.

Reflection

By Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

It was a relatively minor event that took place on the afternoon of Sunday June 1. Pope Leo XIV, who had just finished celebrating a Mass for 70,000 people gathered in St. Peter's Square for the Jubilee of Families, from children to grandparents. But now it was time for him to relax and have a scheduled lunch with friends for a special occasion. It was the 70th birthday party of an old friend, the head of the Augustinian Order, a post the pope himself had once held. It was at their world headquarters only a block away.

Security demanded the pope ride an SUV, and it arrived with no fanfare. His Augustinian hosts greeted Leo; and then with a quick wave to the video photographer, the pope entered the building. Nobody else was around. But I noted Pope Leo's humility in that brief incident. No ceremony with a squad of monsignors in tow. It was one man joining his longtime friend at the friend's home.

It may not always be obvious where humility ranks among the virtues. Suffice it to say it is tops with the Trinity, holy as they are. All the holy people we know, beginning with our Blessed Mother Mary, had it as part of their nature.

In today's Gospel, humility is being talked about out loud and clear in the lesson Our Lord teaches the guests at another dinner party in another house long ago,

Let's be clear. Humility is not denial of the obvious. Often such denial takes place when we're complimented for some reason or another. Do you recall a scene in many old Hollywood westerns? The hero gets praise from the pretty girl for his skill at riding the bucking bronco. Then he shyly replies, "Aw shucks, Ma'am, 'twereent nuttin'." Actually our young cowboy is wrong. What he did was something; something done well.

You see, humility is truth. The root of the word itself is "humus", or "dirt." We are nothing more than dust but created from it by a loving God. That's the great lesson for us on Ash Wednesday.

Besides Our Lady of Good Counsel, another of Pope Leo XIV's models is St. Augustine, the guide of the Augustinian community of which he is a member. Here is one of that saint's appropriate insights from a long-ago conversation.

A certain public speaker asked the saint one day what was the chief rule of eloquence? Augustine replied, "Delivery." "Ah, but what is the second rule?" Again, the saint replied "Delivery." "Then what is the third?" "Delivery." came the reply. But then Augustine changed the subject. He said, "Sir, were you to ask me concerning the precepts of the Christian religion, first, second, third, and always, I would only answer this one way: Humility, humility and humility."

God love you and give you His peace.

St. Monica's Parish Festival was a successful event and blessed with a picture-perfect day. The enthusiasm of all participants yielded to the afternoon filled with great food from our own renowned chef and his crew.
